You are invited...

CITRENZ annual conference is one of New Zealand’s premier computing education conferences regularly attracting over 100 attendees from all over New Zealand and international delegates.

It serves as a major forum for the exchange of information and ideas on research and teaching practice in the field of computing and information technology.

The primary focus for CITRENZ 2015 is ‘Inspirational Computing Education’ and is open to all educators and researchers in the computing and information technology and computing and information science communities. Participants from outside the sector at regional, national and international levels are warmly invited to attend and contribute to the CITRENZ 2015 conference.

We invite you to attend CITRENZ 2015 in beautiful Queenstown and to submit papers for presentation and publication.
